Last-Ditch Action Taken Against Pact

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of screaming left-wingers clamped a four-hour transport shut-down on Japan Wednesday in the prelude to nationwide strikes and mass demonstrations. The aim was to prevent the new U.S.-Japanese security treaty from taking effect.

Massed formations from the Red-tinted Sohyo Labor Federation and the Radical Zengakuren Student Federation took control of all major railroad stations in Tokyo and other major cities during the night.

After brief fights with railroad guards, they occupied 16 Tokyo signal stations, blocked station entrances and sang the Communist Internationale under a sea of Red banners.

At least two persons were injured at the outset.

Aimed At Kishi

The new protests, capping a month of rioting outbursts, represented a last-ditch, Communist-led attempt to topple Premier Nobusuke Kishi's government and block the security pact.

The 3½-million-member Sohyo labor federation said more than five million persons would join the Zengakuren student federation and other leftists desiring to neutralize Japan in the East-West struggle.

Kishi was reported Tuesday to have told Secretary-General Shojiro Kawashima of his ruling Liberal-Democratic party that he will announce his intention to resign as soon as the treaty goes into force.

Japanese ratification of the treaty automatically became final at midnight Sunday.

The pact goes into force after U.S. Senate approval and exchange of ratification documents by the United States and Japan.

Awaits U. S. Action

The Cabinet decided to exchange the documents a day or two after the U.S. Senate acts, but the demonstrators hope to postpone it until after a general election. Kishi has shown no inclination to give in.

The demonstrations were aimed around the Diet building, Kishi's official residence, the offices of the Metropolitan Police Board, the U.S. Embassy, and the Foreign Ministry.

The railway strike will snarl transportation for more than a million Tokyo commuters. Tuesday night, Zengakuren students seized train crows' nests at various railway stations to assure they would not show up for work Wednesday.

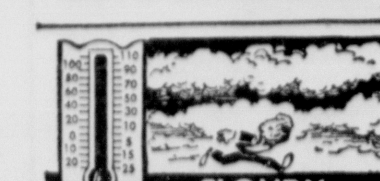

The government warned that civil servants participating in the demonstrations can expect severe punishments. Labor Minister Ryoichi Matsuno declared the general strike is "tantamount to rejection of the rule of democracy."

Kishi to Resign

The Cabinet reaffirmed its desire to enact a bill sponsored by the Liberal Democrats that would restrict demonstrations in and around the Parliament building.

The bill, now under consideration in the lower house, was approved by the upper house over Socialist opposition.

Question Lawrence Order

Safety Program Probed

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Republicans Tuesday cited objections to Gov. David L. Lawrence's traffic safety program in ordering an investigation to determine if he had the authority to enforce it by executive order.

A Republican-backed resolution to have the Joint State Government Commission study the situation was approved, 25-13. Sen. John Carl Miller (D-Beaver) voted with Republicans in favor of the proposal.

Chairman George N. Wade (Cumberland) of the Highways Committee, one of the resolution's eight GOP sponsors, said the commission would decide if the program conforms with present law and if the governor could initiate it without legislative action.

The administration's action was defended by Sen. Charles R. Weiner, Democratic floor leader from Philadelphia.

"There are many people driving in this Commonwealth today that are unfit to be behind the wheel of an automobile," he said.

He contended driving was a privilege rather than a right. He said it could be taken away at any time without explanation.

Wade, however, disagreed. He said the right to drive was the "inherent right of every citizen of Pennsylvania" unless there were violations of the law or some other valid reason why the person should not drive.

Wade said he has received many letters from "folks in the Commonwealth who believe that the governor has exceeded his authority."

Weiner's contention that the study would be a waste of time and money was disputed by Sen. James S. Berger, Republican floor leader.

"It's beginning to appear that everytime anyone questions the administration, he becomes an ogre and in favor of slaughter on the highways and against everything good . . ." Berger said.

He said Senate Democrats seemed to think that "if it is proposed by the administration, it must be good."

Meanwhile, the Rules Committee brought out a resolution authorizing a five-man Senate committee to investigate vote fraud allegations in Philadelphia.

Republican leaders said no immediate action was expected but the proposal would be passed if the Democratic-controlled House refused to approve a House-Senate investigation.

Senate Delays Ratification Of Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday night put off until Wednesday a vote on ratification of the new U.S.-Japanese security treaty.

At the request of majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate agreed to permit a half hour's additional debate on the treaty Wednesday.

The time limit on Wednesday's debate will go into effect after the Senate completes the customary opening routine transactions.

No Opposition

Although debate on the pact dragged on for about seven hours Tuesday, there was no evidence of concerted opposition.

Ratification appeared assured, although some senators expressed doubt about some provisions.

Senate ratification would leave only two steps to put the treaty into effect: President Eisenhower's signature on the ratification and an exchange of documents between Japan and the United States.

The pact has touched off day after day of left wing rioting in Tokyo — violence which forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan this week.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter made a plea for speedy ratification. He said so in appearing before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to plug for his department's annual budget.

"We Misjudged"

There Herter ran into a barrage of questions about how the United States got into the embarrassing situation created when the Japanese government was forced by the riots to cancel its invitation to Eisenhower to visit Japan this week.

Herter told the senators "we misjudged" how unrelenting the rioting would be. Nor, he said, was it expected that the mobs would be so large.

But Herter replied "no" when asked by Senators if his day-to-day information was poor about the riots, which forced the Japanese government to cancel its invitation to President Eisenhower to visit Japan this week. Herter said perhaps the information was not properly evaluated.

Going before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to plug for his department's budget, the Secretary ran into a barrage of questions about how the United States got into such an embarrassing situation.

U. S. Protection

Herter made a strong plea that the Senate act quickly to ratify the treaty. It would assure Japan of U.S. protection, under more favorable conditions for itself than at present, over the next 10 years and would permit U.S. bases to stay on Japanese soil. The agreement on the bases was a main target of the demonstrators.

Shortly after Herter told the senators the sooner they acted the better, Senate floor debate on the treaty was opened by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright urged ratification, expressing a deep hope that Japan's democratic institutions "will suffer no permanent damage" for what he called obstructionist tactics of a fraction of its people.

"If a noisy minority can stifle major government policies and even scuttle visits from friendly chiefs-of-state the principle of responsible majority rule is placed in serious doubt," he said.

The treaty is expected to be flown to Eisenhower, who is resting in Hawaii, for his signature. The Japanese Diet ratified the pact Sunday.

The only remaining steps will be exchange of the documents between the United States and Japan.

Contracts Awarded For Bangor School

BANGOR — Bangor Area Joint School Authority last night sold $2,150,000 of construction bonds to Kidder, Peabody and Co., of Philadelphia at their bid of 4.196.

These bonds will mature in 27 years. Annual rental fee will be $141,200.

Construction on the new senior high school was immediately set in motion by the authority, following the sale of bonds, by awarding the following construction contracts:

K. P. Campton, for general construction at $1,134,200; Joseph A. Rado, for electric heat, of $124,800; John J. Callahan, for plumbing, $232,558, and to M. L. Albarelli, electrical work, $213,348.

In other action, the authority appointed the Girard Trust Co., of Philadelphia as bond trustees at a fee of $585 initially and annual charges of $235.

Herbert P. Crane, of Stroudsburg, was named as auditor for the authority. In taking the shorter term of 27 years in selling the bonds, the authority saved approximately $382,800.

William Wright, representing the bonding house of Kidder, Peabody and Co., informed the authority that the excellent "A" rating given to the local authority by all leading bonding houses accounted for the unusual savings accorded the local area.

Northampton Aids

MONTREAL (AP)—The USS Northampton during a courtesy call here became temporary headquarters of the Royal Victoria Hospital mobile blood clinic. More than 120 shipmen donated blood as a goodwill gesture.

The President will spend the remainder of the week golfing and relaxing. His only activities include a reception in his honor Friday by Republican Gov. William F. Quinn. On the same evening he is to receive an honorary law degree from the University of Hawaii.

But his speech obviously was an answer to Democratic presidential candidates — and to Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York — who have been pointing out that the Soviets are growing at the rate of eight per cent a year. This country has varied between three and four per cent.

Nixon had an eager eye on Missouri votes. This is a flip-flop state, apt to go either way. Dwight D. Eisenhower carried it in 1952; Adlai E. Stevenson won it in 1956.

It's no accident that on this four-day tour Nixon went into Texas, North and South Dakota and Missouri — all states where, for one reason or another, the Republican cause needs bolstering.

His report to the nation probably will be next week.

A White House spokesman in announcing Eisenhower's plans at the same time reported Tuesday the President and his secretary of state both believe the visits to the Philippines, Korea and Formosa were "completely successful."

Eisenhower and Herter, talking over the long distance phone Tuesday, also agreed the President's visit to Okinawa was "very much worthwhile."

Some 1,500 pro-Japanese snake-dancing, screaming demonstrators greeted Eisenhower on Okinawa. But 150,000 other Okinawans cheered Eisenhower during a motorcade.

Centennial Celebration Held At Signal Depot

Tobyhanna — Military and civilian personnel at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot joined with representatives of area industry, business, the public and the press yesterday in celebrating the 100th anniversary of the U. S. Army Signal Corps.

The observance was highlighted by the burying of a time capsule containing a bit of current history and a number of forecasts of things to come. The capsule, buried on the grounds in front of the Administration Building, will be opened on June 21, 1970. It contains front pages of area newspapers, including The Daily Record; two films made at yesterday's ceremonies, a list of current jobs and their salaries, operating costs, aerial photo of the depot, photos of key civilians and officers, and samples of today's miniature Signal Corps electronic equipment.

Most of the 2,100 civilians employed at the depot and members of the 972nd Signal Battalion were massed in front of the main building for the centennial ceremony. Glenn E. Grubbs, civilian assistant, presided.

Main St. Reopened Non-Working Hours

RE-OPENING of W. Main St., Stroudsburg to vehicular traffic on weekends and evenings during the week was announced yesterday by State Rep. Van D. Yetter.

The road has been closed to all but local traffic during the last two weeks because of work in progress at site of the overpass which will carry the new Stroudsburg Thruway over Main St.

Vehicles have been detoured in the meantime to Route 611 via Bridge and Ninth Sts.

Business people in the W. Main St. area protested the closing of the street during periods when employees of J. H. Beers Construction Co., Thruway contractor, were not at work.

Rep. Yetter said he consulted with Arthur Logan, deputy secretary of highways in Harrisburg, with highway officials here and with the contractor and they all agreed to re-opening of the street (Route 209) during non-working hours.

The street will be open at all times during weekends and evenings except when a hazard is involved, Yetter said. He stated that if the construction company has to work later than usual, the street will be closed.

Nixon For President Committee Set Up

ANNOUNCEMENT of the formation of the Nixon for President Committee of Monroe County, a non-partisan organization dedicated to the election of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president of the United States has been made by Parke Unangst, chairman of the voluntary group.

The Monroe County group is one of many such organizations throughout the United States working voluntarily for the election of Nixon.

Unangst said it is an "independent organization of people who, regardless of political affiliation, look to Vice President Nixon as the best qualified man in the United States today to ably discharge the complex duties of the Presidency."

Welcomes Membership

He added that the group "welcomes the membership of Republicans, Democrats and Independent voters who recognize the compelling demand for a man of Nixon's experience, ability and great integrity in the White House."

The committee held its first meeting at the home of Olaf J.

Pedersen, 612 Bryant St., last weekend. It was decided to start a young people's organization along the same lines.

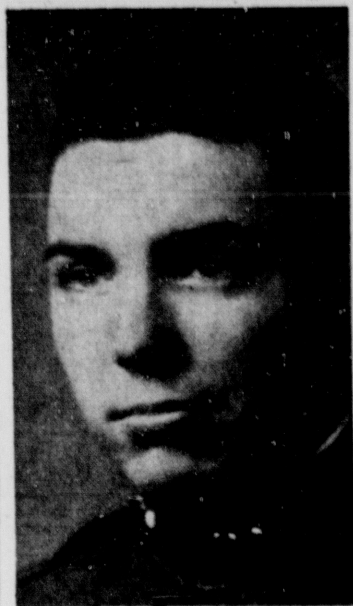

The young people's group will be headed by Stroudsburg Atty. Edwin Krawitz. The group will comprise people of 21 to 35 years of age. His assistants will be named at a later date.

Labor Unit

During its initial meeting, the group also decided to start a Labor committee for Nixon in the county. The main headquarters and further activities of this committee are incomplete as yet. They will be released as the campaign develops.

Some reasons for the organization are (1) to acquaint the community with the fact of the club's existence, and (2) to call attention to the club as a rallying point for supporters of Dick Nixon from all walks of life regardless of political affiliations.

Those connected to the committee in addition to Unangst are Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, H. L. Cleveland, Mrs. Jeanette Batory, Olaf J. Pedersen, Mrs. Frank L. Patterson, Atty. Edwin Krawitz and Sam Saunders.

WILLIAM E. Scheibel Jr. of 1902 N. 5th St., Stroudsburg, was awarded a diploma at the 32nd annual commencement at Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa. A member of the Anthony Wayne Legion Guard, the school's honor military unit, he held the rank of sergeant in the 1,000-member corps of cadets.

Rep. Walter Introduces Bill To Nip Communist Propaganda

A BILL designed to plug loopholes in the law applicable to foreign Communist propaganda was introduced recently in the U. S. House of Representatives by Rep. Francis E. Walter, Easton Democrat.

Walter is chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, which recently completed extensive investigations and hearings on the subject of Red propaganda.

In introducing the measure, Walter said, in part:

"During the past year, the United States Customs Service processed over six million packages of foreign communist propaganda entering the United States. These six million packages contained over ten million items of printed matter and constituted an 18 percent increase over the preceding year. This was exclusive of the millions of mail articles containing communist propaganda which are received from overseas via first class mail which, of course, is not subject to inspection.

"The studies of the Committee on Un-American Activities at the various ports of entry show that there is a steady increase in the volume of communist propaganda entering the United States. One of the devilish aspects of this communist propaganda is its subtlety. In very few publications do identifying data appear. In fact, as in most communist operations, these publications present an appealing masquerade.

Up 40 Percent

"The material directed to youth in this country has increased almost 40 percent during 1959 over the preceding year. In 1959 there were 380,000 packages containing 580,000 items destined to youth groups in the United States.

"The Foreign Agents Registration Act requires the registration of those agents of a foreign power who disseminate political propaganda in the United States, and also requires a labeling of the political propaganda so that the American public can be on notice respecting it. The theory underlying the law rejects any concept of censorship, but is based on the same premise which undergirds the labeling provisions commonly found in food and drug laws which require the producers of poisonous drugs to label them as such.

"While I am in thorough accord with the concepts of the existing law, the factual situations which our investigations and hearings have brought to light, compel me to conclude that the American public is not being given the protection which the law contemplates, because we have yet to find a port of entry where communist propaganda is being processed, in which there is compliance with the labeling requirements of the law. In other words, the poison is being poured into the veins of our society without notice or warning of its nature.

Different Subter

"In the studies which our Committee has conducted at different ports of entry, we have found several different subterfuges used in order to avoid the impact of the law. We have found, first of all, that the existing exemptions in the law for certain commercial enterprises have been used as a conduit for evading the impact of the general statute. Likewise, we have found that certain of the criteria pertaining to the form of political propaganda subject to the provisions of the act are cumbersome and difficult to apply. We have, moreover, observed a pattern of evasion because of various interpretations of the term 'foreign principal.' In the enforcement of the law, furthermore, there has not been a fixation of responsibility which would appear to be essential for effective control.

In Conferences

"I have, from time to time, over the course of many months, been in conferences with experts on the subject matter relating to the foregoing principal loopholes requiring legislation, as well as some minor related defects which I believe could be handled administratively. Accordingly, the bill which I have just introduced amends the Internal Security Act of 1950 in order to expand the provisions of the Foreign Agents Registration Act by—

"(a) Bringing within the coverage of the definition of 'foreign principal' an organization which is 'supervised, directed, controlled, or financed, in whole or in part, by any foreign government or foreign political party,' regardless of whether the organization is supervised by a foreign government.

"(b) Including within the registration requirements of the Foreign Agents Registration Act persons who have used the existing exemption for certain commercial activities to disseminate propaganda.

"(c) Eliminating cumbersome criteria pertaining to the form of political propaganda subject to the provisions of the act; and

Cities Show Census Gain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Of the 15 Pennsylvania cities classified by the census bureau as big, only three—Allentown, Bethlehem and Erie—showed population increases in the 1950s.

Allentown gained 1.7 per cent, Bethlehem 13.1 per cent, Erie 3.3 per cent.

The census bureau yesterday disclosed these and other figures in a table of population changes in major metropolitan areas of the country from 1950 to 1960.

Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton and a part of New Jersey just across the Delaware River are grouped into such a metropolitan area. Whereas Allentown showed a small gain and Bethlehem a considerable one, Easton's population fell off 10.6 per cent.

For the entire area an increase of 12.1 was reported, and the percentage of growth outside the three central cities was 20.1 per cent.

Heavy Losers

Erie's orbit increased 12.3 per cent, and in the area outside the central city the percentage upward was 25.8.

Wilkes-Barre, Johnstown and Scranton were the heaviest losers, 19.3 per cent, 15.2 per cent, and 12.5 per cent respectively. Next were Harrisburg, 11.9 per cent; Reading, 11.8; Pittsburgh, 11.2; Altoona, 10.5; Hazleton, 10.2, and York, 10.1.

Of the 12 major metropolitan areas listed, three showed decreases in entire area population, central cities population, and in the percentage outside the central cities. These are Johnstown, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton.

Largest increases for entire area are recorded for York, 16.3 per cent; Lancaster, 16.3 per cent; Erie, 12.3 per cent; Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton, 12.1 per cent; Philadelphia, 11.2 per cent; and Harrisburg 10.7 per cent.

Because Pennsylvania's population as a whole increased only somewhat less than 7 per cent, the state stands to lose three of its 30 seats in the House of Representatives.

PM Motor Club Acts On 3 Problems

POCONO - Mountains Motor Club board of governors met at the Penn-Stroud Hotel last night and took these actions:

(1) Accepted the resignation of Clement Heist as secretary-manager. He has joined the security division of the Western Electric Co. at Allentown. No successor was named, pending a review of applications.

(2) Voted to move to larger quarters at 27 N. Ninth St. in a building being remodeled by Daniel G. Warner. The club plans to vacate its present quarters in the Penn-Stroud Hotel before Aug. 1. Parking facilities for 40 cars are being provided at the rear of the new location.

(3) Agreed to the appointment of a committee to meet with a similar body from the Lackawanna Motor Club to study a proposal to form a new American Automobile Club of Northeastern Pennsylvania covering eight counties. The local club would continue its offices here and be known as the Pocono Division of the new club, which would have its main offices in Scranton.

Better Service

Allen Hunsicker, secretary-manager of the 34,000-member Lackawanna Club, told the local board that consolidation of the two clubs would lead to more and better service for members at a lower cost. The local club has 3,650 members.

The consolidation is in line with moves elsewhere in the state and was suggested by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation and the American Automobile Assn., according to John M. Crandall, club president. Both Crandall and Hunsicker agreed that it would take from six months to a year before the new club would be set up under the merger plan.

Pact Inked For New Post Office In Mountainhome

SEN. Hugh Scott has been advised by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield that a contract has been signed for the construction and rent to the Post Office Department of a new Post Office Building in Mountainhome.

The successful bidders are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Mullen of Mountainhome. Ground breaking and construction of the new post office is expected to begin immediately, with completion due Sept. 15, 1960. The rental agreement will run for five years, with renewal options up to ten years.

This modern post office will be located on State Highway 390, Mountainhome. It will provide 900 square feet of interior space, an outside loading platform, and ample hard-surfaced space for parking and truck maneuvering. Specifications call for new modern lighting and equipment, including a low, open patron-service counter.

Summerfield stated, "This is another important step in the Post Office Department's Modernization Program authorized in the last session of the Congress (with the valued assistance of your Senator Scott) to improve postal services for the public by providing new buildings and equipment, designed for efficient and economical mail-handling."

Department Awarding

He said that, "Under the Post Office Department's unique Commercial Leasing Program, the Department now is awarding contracts for new postal facilities at the accelerated rate of over five buildings every working day. To achieve complete modernization of the postal plant, a total of 12,000 post offices must be modernized or replaced due to lack of space and obsolescence."

Adding further details concerning postal service today, he noted that, "our more than 35,000 post offices are handling a total of 62 billion pieces of letter mail and parcel post annually. This is an all-time record and an increase of more than 24 percent above the approximately 50 billion pieces handled annually only 10 years ago."

Private Ownership

The postmaster general also pointed out that the new post office in Mountainhome, one of 1400 new post offices to be built in fiscal year 1960, will remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal Government, and hence will pay local real estate taxes to bear its share of the cost of local government.

The Postmaster General said, "Mail users will find mail service in the years ahead improved through an unprecedented five-year program of scientific postal research and engineering."

Survey Set For Senior Citizens

A SURVEY of Senior Citizens of Monroe County is presently underway to determine the status of the men and women with the aim of possible improvements on their living status.

Various organizations have assisted the Senior Citizens Club, sponsored by the Central Labor Union located in East Stroudsburg, in completing questionnaires on the study of the senior citizens of this county. Other groups associated in the study are the MORA Club and the Leisure Hour Club, sponsored by the Stroudsburg YMCA.

In addition, questionnaires have been forwarded to clergymen of 46 churches located in Monroe County and is hoped that 300 to 400 responses will be obtained as a result of the churches' assistance.

It is hoped that all senior citizens who have not already filed such a questionnaire to take advantage of this opportunity. It is further hoped that the sons and daughters of these citizens assist their parents in the completion of these forms.

Completed Forms

The completed forms will be forwarded to A. B. Wyckoff Store in Stroudsburg where the results of the Monroe County findings will be compiled with those of the other counties. Ultimately, these reports received will be presented during the 1961 White House Conference regarding the problems of the senior citizens of the United States. This present survey will provide the information that will make it possible to improve the status of these citizens.

An open meeting will be held on June 27 for all citizens interested in this survey. The meeting will be held in the YMCA starting at 8 p.m.

Lots Of Effort But Little Cash

LOTS of effort but little reward was forthcoming when thieves (or a thief) broke into the office of the East Stroudsburg Lumber Co., 226 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, sometime Saturday night. The robbery netted only 60 cents.

Theodore D. Hoffman, firm owner, told East Stroudsburg investigating police that the small amount of change had been taken from the petty cash drawer. Entrance was gained through a second-floor window.

There is no better time to choose than long talked of memorial than now while all concerned are here to give it careful thought.

Radio Klub Will Meet

THE monthly meeting of the Pocono Amateur Radio Klub (PARK) will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at Civil Defense headquarters in the county court house. The June meeting was advanced one week so final arrangements could be discussed for the annual field day operations which will begin Saturday and end Sunday night.

President Lawrence Lambert (K2ALL) said "aside from the natural enjoyment of this popular contest we have always felt that field day was a little extra special inasmuch as it is an excellent demonstration of our ability to organize and effect emergency communications when the need arises. Amateur radio is, aside from a hobby, a valuable public service."

All licensed radio amateurs are urged to attend this meeting.

Bright Future

Further evidence of the growing role being played by East Stroudsburg State College in the field of education will come this September when a new four-year program goes into effect at the college.

The program is an outgrowth of a study over the last 18 months, according to Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent of public instruction.

Several of the 14 state colleges had their programs outlined a year ago. The last to receive approval is Mansfield.

The program embraces two years of general education by means of an "all purpose" curriculum to meet mounting college applications. At all of the colleges except Mansfield, the general education courses will be spread over the four-year term.

Programs such as advanced by Dr. Boehm and the Board of State College Presidents will go a long way in furthering the cause of education in Pennsylvania by broadening the curriculum offered to students entering the 14 colleges.

East Stroudsburg State College has grown steadily over the last two decades and its future looks even brighter as a result of the new program just announced, coupled with the substantial building program now in progress on the campus.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Too Late For Lincoln, Douglas

The people who are planning the Democratic National Convention have come up with a whiz of a podium for the speakers.

The platform can be raised or lowered so that one speaker will appear at the same height as the next.

When a man drops his eyes to look at his text, a low-seat camera will be cut in—he'll be reading his speech but the viewer won't know it.

He needn't worry about sitting up late the night before in a smoke-filled room. There will be special lights "to erase shadows on the face."

Best of all, he will have his own air conditioning machine.

With all this mechanical and electronic help, it could be that some of the orators may have time to go back to writing their own speeches.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Spies Everywhere

Soviet agents take the law in their own hands whenever they so desire. It is probable that all agents do that. For instance, Israeli agents kidnapped Adolf Eichmann from the Argentine. The puzzling Czajka case also is in point:

On the night of Nov. 29, 1959, Washington's Metropolitan Police Department was informed by Polish Embassy and State Department officials that Antoni Czajka that sometime during the day while he was out with his two children, his wife was brutally attacked by three men who had forced their way into the Czajka apartment in an announced quest for photographs and documents.

Zofia Czajka, the assaulted woman, is the wife of Antoni Czajka, Second Secretary of the Polish Embassy in Washington. The police were unable to question Mrs. Czajka immediately because of her hysterical condition and the interference of the Polish Embassy officials who insisted on their right of extraterritoriality.

Because of diplomatic interference, the police were forced to wait 19 days before being permitted by the Polish Embassy to interview Mrs. Czajka although she was fully capable of answering questions.

The interview on Dec. 18, 1959, lasted only one hour as Mrs. Czajka became upset when questioned on crucial points. The interview and subsequent police investigation revealed several factors which remain unexplained. Mrs. Czajka stated she first became aware of the presence of the intruders when she was shaken awake by one of them.

Yet the apartment door was always kept heavily locked and there was no evidence of forced entry. Police concluded that entry had been achieved by invitation or by a duplicate key.

Yet even three weeks after the incident, no request had been made to change the door lock, indicating a lack of fear that a duplicate key was available. The assumption must be that Mrs. Czajka knew who her intruder was, but no one can understand why the police were called in at all.

Police were required to wait several days before being permitted to process the apartment for fingerprints, and then only fingerprints of the Czajka family were located. This, despite the fact that one of the three alleged intruders was un-gloved, as proven by a minute description of a ring he wore.

It also seemed odd to police that Mrs. Czajka was able to give a detailed description of only one man and had the vaguest recollection of the remaining two. Mrs. Czajka recalled to police how she was able to prevent the three men from taking one article they had located by wrestling it from their grasp.

It is not understandable how Mrs. Czajka could describe anything if she was in the semi-conscious condition which her husband described. The assumption regarding this is that the whole matter was of some political or espionage significance, particularly as much attention was paid to it in Poland. There the Ministry of Foreign Affairs treated it as an assault on a Polish woman in Washington, but it did not say why it was done.

Such puzzling cases often lead to the conclusion that some inner situation is involved; the intruders often looking for documents because they suspect a double-cross, double espionage, or counter espionage. Sometimes, particularly in the case of a woman, an attack is made on a blabber-mouth to frighten her. Of course, not only women are blabber-mouths or are indiscreet. Sometimes, men do very foolish things.

For instance, there is the case of a United States citizen on official business in an Iron Curtain country who was compromised by a combination of Communist-provided maid service and an infra-red camera which takes pictures in the dark. When Communist officials attempted to blackmail him into espionage, he refused to cooperate and told his superiors what had happened. It was necessary to transfer him to another post.

The infra-red camera is used constantly in this work. It takes pictures in the dark without exposing itself. It can be hidden and worked from another room. It is used particularly to get the goods on a man who engages in any form of sex relations and who then can be freely blackmailed either by making his indecencies known to his family or to his government. Often frightened men become spies.

Stands On Its Record

Dear Editor:

I have one thing in common with your reader, Mr. George J. Oliver, whose letter appeared in your columns on June 15, in that this too is my first "Letter to the Editor," though I have been a resident of this community for over 40 years.

Since his letter comments on a multitude of matters I will restrict my reply to such items with which I am thoroughly familiar.

First, concerning Tamiment's participation in community affairs, I refer you and your readers to the judgment of our neighbors and friends in both Pike and Monroe Counties.

As to his gratuitous comments about Tamiment, I should like to extend a cordial invitation to your correspondent to visit Tamiment (that is, if he were willing to cross the county line) and I will gladly acquaint him with all the facts concerning Tamiment's educational, cultural and social welfare services since its establishment over 40 years ago.

I am confident that this visit will result in having his facts straightened out and freed of the venom which I fear his thinking is not.

Cordially yours,
TAMIMENT

Shadow Across The Rising Sun

By Robert Clark, City Editor

Patterson won the fight, so they said on the radio. Even the radio announcer, a voice who goes by the name of Slider, told us from the very start that Floyd was out to regain his title.

Slider's blow by blow description, plus his editorializing gave the listeners that a new champion was forthcoming.

Honestly we had no doubts that Patterson would not regain his throne just for the simple reason that he shouldn't have lost it a year ago.

The fight game being what it is and what it has been for more than a decade, one really can't go out on the limb and pick a winner and be sure of the result. That is not persons who are not in on the know.

Personally we didn't care who won the bout because neither one is a great fighter like tub-thumpers and the press would like us to believe.

Patterson who took three-quarters of a bout to put away an inept Hurricane Jackson didn't turn puncher overnight with two left hooks to enliven a fun-loving Swede. If he did that the Gottberg Thor was more out of condition than even his best friends knew.

There is supposed to be a third match. A nice buildup already has the fight as a publicist's must. Johanson scored a TKO over Patterson last year and Floyd kayoed Ingemar Monday night. This next tilt, slated ninety days from now, is a "natural"—the so-called rubber match.

But as we said before who actually cares except those who still believe in Santa Claus.

Probably the best quote on the radio broadcast of the affair was by Rocky Marciano. Prior to the fight, the former heavyweight champ noted to the announcer that he didn't like to pick a winner before the square off.

He was so right. However, after the battle was over the Brockton, Mass., Blockbuster said he knew all along Floyd would win and that was why he picked the American to win???

Oh well each and every one of us to our opinion before or after.

The Pennsylvania Story

Closely Linked

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Although candidates for Pennsylvania's 30 congressional seats are scheduled to play an almost unprecedented role in this Fall's presidential campaign in the Keystone State, local members of the State Legislature up for reelection this year are destined to be equally as much in the forefront.

Actually the key role in this year's presidential race rests amazingly heavily in their hands and Republicans as well as Democrats are shooting for a concentration or pinpointing of local level support through these candidates for state legislative seats.

But again as in the case of congressmen from the state, the strategy involving State Assemblymen this year is being tied in closely with overall state level plans and strategy.

Republicans are hitting this plan in an all-out spurge. Activity in this respect is centering for the most part around candidates after the 210 seats in the State House of Representatives where membership in many cases is strictly a home town affair and at worst only county-wide.

From an office-seeking standpoint these are the real liaison elective elements between the grassroots and the statewide scene.

Insofar as Republicans are concerned, to these legislators will fall the chore of working in their congressional candidate in a continuous link between the local, state and national or presidential level.

It is clearly evident that the days are fast being numbered when a local candidate can concentrate exclusively on his own candidacy.

The meaning behind all of this is fairly obvious, and if little else it eliminates splinter support or reduces it to a bare minimum, assuring at the same time a maximum of effort in achieving the overall goal of full state support.

The 30-man Pennsylvania congressional delegation, one of the largest blocs from any state, is of crucial importance to any administration in Washington. The 16-14 Democratic control of the delegation has been a nettling thorn in the side of the Republican Eisenhower Administration as well as Pennsylvania GOP leaders themselves.

Similarly the drive for control by Republicans of both houses of the State Legislature is of equal importance—but of course on the state level.

What this means in the case of the General Assembly can be seen from the fact that at present the State Senate by only two votes is controlled by Republicans—and with half the Senate seats up for filling this fall this could change in the other direction, although actually this is not viewed as likely.

On the other hand the State House of Representatives now is in Democratic hands by a squeeze-through margin of 108 to 102. However all of these terms expire in November when an entire new House membership will be elected.

The feeling persists around Capitol Hill that when the ballots have been laid down this fall the House may revert to GOP control—which would then place Democratic Governor Lawrence in one of the most untenable spots in which a Chief Executive could be placed.

The inter-relationship, as being underscored this year particularly between congressional candidates and state legislative candidates and the possibility of ultimate statewide victory, becomes more understandable—and provides a clue as to why statewide strategists are hammering the congressional and legislative levels throughout the state this fall.

Reports from Congress

Hold Foreign Money

By Congressional Quarterly
Washington — Congress is about to give its blessings to a new foreign aid agency, in the hope that it will help to solve an increasingly embarrassing problem.

This is the large and growing accumulation of "soft" currencies for which the U.S. has no use. These are the bahts, dinars, drachmas, kyats, hwan, pesetas, rupees, soles, sucres and other currencies acquired by the U.S. in payment for surplus commodities and dollar loans.

No one is sure just how much of this "money" is on hand, since it is spread through dozens of government accounts. As of the end of 1959, however, the U.S. stood to collect $3 billion "worth" of foreign currencies on loans outstanding, plus interest. And the I.O.U.'s keep mounting.

The only trouble with all this "wealth" is that, for the most part, the U.S. can't spend it. India, for example, already owes us the equivalent of $729 million in rupees and has just agreed to borrow back more than $300 million of the rupees she will pay us for 16 million tons of wheat over the next four years. There's no prospect that these U.S. claims can be exchanged for goods or services in the foreseeable future.

In fact, the Budget Bureau estimates that U.S. agencies will need $2.3 billion in foreign currencies to meet overseas costs in fiscal 1961, but that only $130 million of the U.S. hoard can be used. This is because more than 80 percent of the need will occur in Canada, Britain, France, Germany, and Japan, where U.S. applies of local currencies are negligible.

Monroney Plan — The new aid agency, the International Development Assn., is the brainchild of Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), who conceived it as a means of putting U.S.-owned foreign currencies to constructive use. IDA, he believed, could put them to work in the underdeveloped countries.

Monroney's idea got nowhere until the Treasury decided that it could be used to entice other "hard" currency countries into shouldering more of the growing burden of development assistance. But this would mean the investment of gold, not "soft" currencies.

As finally approved by representatives of the leading nations last September, the plan called for the World Bank to operate IDA, which would collect a fund of $1 billion within five years — $753 million in gold or dollars from 17 prosperous countries (including $320 million from the U.S.) and $237 million (90 percent in local currencies and only 10 percent in gold or dollars) from 51 poorer countries.

As a sop to Monroney, the plan included a provision allowing any member to contribute, as "supplementary resources," the currencies of other members, just only on condition that they agree. As a practical matter, the World Bank wants no part of the U.S. board of foreign currencies, since they would have no greater use for IDA than for the U.S. in adding of the resources of the underdeveloped countries.

"Funny Money" — This fact went unnoticed, however, when the Senate approved U.S. participation in IDA on June 2. "The purpose of the pending bill," said Sen. Prescott Bush (R Conn.), "is to provide a use for idle funds which belong to the United States, which are locked up in foreign currencies."

No one challenged this point. On the contrary, most of the debate centered on an amendment (which was adopted) designed to retain Congressional control over these currencies, by requiring an appropriation in order to transfer them to IDA.

Thus the myth that these are the same as dollars was preserved. House approval of the measure awaits action by the Rules Committee, but no trouble is expected. By the end of the year, IDA should be in business with its real purpose in mind: to transfer $753 million worth of resources (including $143 million from other "hard" currency countries) to the poorer countries, by way of long-term, low-interest loans.

Meanwhile the U.S. fund of "soft" currencies promises to grow, for a very simple reason. Anything that smacks of "giveaways" has become politically taboo. So Congress insists that America's farm surpluses be "sold" for foreign currencies, if not for dollars, and that a large part of the "proceeds" be loaned back to the purchasers. At this rate, according to one estimate, the U.S. could wind up with the equivalent of $154 billion in I.O.U.'s by the year 2000.

The only answer, says Harvard's Edward S. Mason, is to stop the "phony sales" of farm surpluses. Until this is done, Uncle Sam's foreign funny money will continue to expand like a tub full of Asian steamed rice.

Health Column

Allergy To Pets

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Does Fido, the family pet, have to leave when the new baby comes home from the hospital?

Do babies and pets mix?

This is a real problem for many new parents. People, especially children, develop great affection for pets. Children do, too. And the friendship that exists between a boy and his dog is indeed a beautiful thing.

Dogs, cats, even parakeets and other pets, usually give a child more pleasure than any kind of toy. Here is something that can be loved and often can return the love.

Teaches Responsibility
Having a pet is an important part of growing up. It helps teach responsibility. But what about the health aspect of the situation?

Well, about the only thing you really have to be concerned with is whether the child is allergic to the fur of your pet. If this is the case, about the only sensible thing to do is to get rid of the animal.

Another Kind
Perhaps a pet of some other kind won't cause an allergic reaction.

Some time ago, you may recall, I discussed the "zoonoses", or the diseases which humans can catch from animals. But, as I pointed out at that time, most animals—even the elephant—are in greater danger of contracting diseases from us than we are of getting some from them.

Dogs can transmit only two diseases, rabies and hydatidosis. It is a simple matter to have a dog immunized against rabies and I urge every dog owner to have it done. Thus we can eliminate any danger of rabies from a household pet.

Tapeworm Disease
That leaves hydatidosis, a tapeworm disease, and here again a veterinarian can cure the trouble in your pet. Besides, rarely are such cases of a really serious nature.

Anyway, your youngster is just as vulnerable—probably even more so—to worms from other sources.

Parrot Fever
Parakeets, canaries and such do present another problem, parrot fever, a disease somewhat resembling pneumonia. Here again the danger is relatively slight.

What about biting and scratching by pets?
Well, that is something you will have to decide on an individual basis. Watch your pet and watch your baby, too.

From The Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Patton

July 4 at Honolulu, Hawaii, will see the third United States American Flag issue with the new 50 Star Flag. Collectors would like to have this custom continue so that on each July 4 another flag would be issued.

As we don't expect to have additional States each year, the suggestion is that we start with some of our first historical flags and follow along each year as our flag was developed.

As for example we have many historical flags and banners like "The Pine Tree" or "Rattlesnake" with the inscription "Don't Tread on Me" as well as the "Bedford Flag," the "Philadelphia Light Horse," etc. These could have First Day Sale on Flag Day instead of July 4 each year.

Collectors feel that this would be educational, historical and pictorial as we now can have them printed in their original colors. Also it has been suggested that at various times the flags of the states be issue in color, starting with the 13 original states and following this as the states were admitted to the Union. These could have first day sale at the states' capitals.

Back in 1943-44 we issued 13 flag stamps for the "over-run" countries and certainly our 13 original States are of more historical value to our collectors than these flag stamps. We hope that many collectors will write and make this suggestion to the Postmaster General.

August 28, the four cent stamp "Employ the Handicapped" will be issued in New York City during the meeting of the Eighth World Congress of the International Society for Welfare of Cripples.

It will picture, in vertical format, a man confined to a wheelchair capably operating a drill press. The central design was adopted from an actual photograph by Carl Boberty, a New York artist. This congress is meeting under the sponsorship of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

The committee was authorized by Act of Congress "to enlist the cooperation of the public and private groups in a public and private program to promote employment of physically handicapped workers." The color of this stamp has not yet been decided upon.

Veteran's Guide

Q—A friend is writing this for me as I am quite helpless. I am not a veteran, but the husband of a woman-veteran who has just died. Please tell me about the law that says a helpless widower of a woman-veteran may receive benefits based on the death of his wife.

A—The unmarried widower of a woman-veteran may receive VA death benefits if he is incapable of self-maintenance and, at the time of his wife's death, was permanently incapable of self-support because of physical or mental disability. Your nearest VA office will be glad to give you all details.

Q—My GI permanent plan insurance policy lapsed two weeks ago. What must I do to reinstate it?

A—First, get a non-medical reinstatement form from any VA office. Since yours is a permanent-type policy, enclose two months' premiums with your form, and mail it immediately. If you are in as good health as when the premium you did not pay was due, no medical examination will be necessary.

'Make A Million' Hit

Levene Stars At Playhouse

By Gloria S. Randolph

MOUNTAINHOME — As it is presented this week at the Pocono Playhouse, "Make A Million" by Norman Barasch and Carroll Moore is a snappy, fast-moving comedy-satire. Sam Levene directs and stars in Rowena Stevens production, and is ably supported by an excellent cast.

Barasch and Moore have connected an almost continuous stream of gags into a story. "Make A Million" manages to poke fun at a great many of the dominating forces of "life in these United States" including the Reader's Digest, the army, psychoanalysis and of course, the commercial side of television.

Although at times the acting was somewhat bombastic and tended to be choppy, it didn't affect the pace of the performance as a whole. Every character is overdrawn, but honestly so, the play attempts no moralizing. There is no false note of tragedy-relief inserted to shame the audience into more serious look at the ills of society. The play has no deep meaning, it is just a million laughs.

Levene Excellent

Sam Levene is excellent as the harried producer of T.V. quiz shows. Joyce Davis, who plays his assistant and his love-interest is fine in the difficult position of having the only really straight role in the presentation.

Ilene Lehrman plays a sexy receptionist — a vigorous dumb-blonde — with a great deal of energy and zip. Monica May as the naive little quiz show winner was charming.

Some of the funniest lines in the play fall to Harold Fairbanks, a nervous product of psychoanalysts and Madison Avenue. As played by Ty Perry, Fairbanks is an uproarious caricature of the man who tries to "motivate" his every move.

Carried Well

Ralph Dunn as a T.V. sponsor — the man who holds the purse strings, and Humphrey Davis as an army general carried off the slap-on-the-back middle aged humor of their scenes very well. Occasionally their characterizations were too broad, resulting in a forced superficiality which added very little to the humor of the moment. The pace of the play was so fast-moving that these rather minor faults were quickly passed by and were hardly noticeable.

Thomas Hawley, as a jazz-talking soldier who is supposed to be the epitome of caddishness, was effective in most of his scenes. Once or twice he seemed to become a little tender, almost sympathetic but generally he managed to create the desired effect.

Good Portrayals

Peter Trytler's energetic portrayal of Bernie Leeds, an eager young idea man, is excellent.

Roger Sturtevant is also good in a rather thankless role of a sweet, home-town boyfriend.

McDonald Seeks Four-Day Week

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—President David J. McDonald said yesterday his United Steelworkers Union would seek a new fair labor standards law embracing a four-day week with no loss of pay.

And, McDonald declared in a speech at the 22nd annual convention of the Communications Workers of America, if the next Congress does not act promptly on the proposal the USW "will have no alternative but to press for the four-day week in our next contract negotiations."

STROUDSBURG AND DELAWARE WATER GAP will be the first in the Bell System to have LONG DISTANCE DIALING FROM COIN TELEPHONES

New Service Effective Thursday June 23

A new service, Coin Toll Dialing, will be introduced for the first time in the Bell System right here in Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap, Pa. Customers will be able to dial station-to-station calls from coin telephones to points outside the local calling area.

It will go into effect June 23 at 3:01 in the morning, DST. You will be able to dial calls costing from 15c up to 50c—or as far away as New York City—from coin telephones. About 400,000 vacationers are expected in the Poconos this season—and Coin Toll Dialing should prove to be a big convenience to them.

We are pleased to introduce this new service in time to be featured with the Golden Anniversary Sixties in the Poconos—an accelerated program to expand facilities for the seasonal guests and permanent residents of the area.

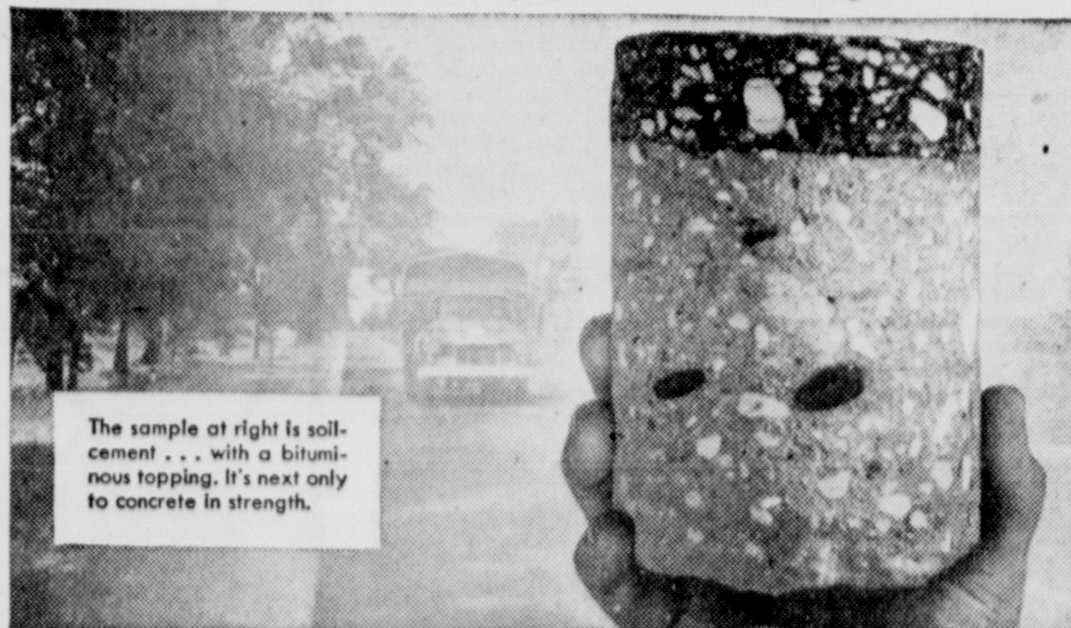

For complete information on how to dial and a list of the communities that can be called by Coin Toll Dialing, see page 6 of the new Pocono Mountains Directory.

Soil-cement is a real taxpayer's bargain—usually up to 75% of the materials are free! Any old broken-up road or native soil can be the main ingredient. It's mixed with portland cement and water, rolled solid and covered with a bituminous topping.

Paving a mile or more a day with modern machines is not unusual. Soil-cement pavement grows stronger year by year. Maintenance costs stay low. Each year, thousands of miles of soil-cement are built in the U.S. and Canada. Illustrated booklet, "Soil-Cement Pavement," is yours for the asking.

Pre-School Center A Barrett Club Project

'I PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE'—Mrs. Jean Burke leads nursery and kindergarten classes of the Barrett Community Club's Pre-School Center in the flag salute prior to the start of the day's regular program.

An unusual educational set-up for pre-school children, operated in Barrett Township since 1954, recently won high praise from an educator and a woman's club executive.

The Barrett Community Club Pre-School Center, located in the Barrett Branch of Monroe County YMCA, was commended by John C. Litts, Monroe County superintendent of schools, in a letter to Mrs. Charles Scheim, community club president.

In it, Litts said, in part: "Your club deserves a lot of credit for establishing and maintaining a kindergarten in your area for the past six years. Without this unselfish work on the part of your club, your area would have been without a kindergarten during this period of time, as it would have been impossible for us to have a public kindergarten. . .

"The services which you have rendered to your community and the saving in dollars and cents which this has entailed to our public school system have been very worth while and you deserve the commendation of all the people of your area. The annual cost of educating each one of these children in our public schools would have been $252.17 for the present school year of 1959-60."

Mrs. Samuel O. Wells, III, president of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs, who recently completed a two-year term as public education chairman for the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, had this to say in a letter to Mrs. Scheim:

"This letter is to commend and compliment the members of the Barrett Community Club for the success they have achieved in the establishment and maintenance of a kindergarten. . .

"I can report that few clubs undertake so large a project and seldom do they continue it for such a length of time."

The center, state licensed, had a record registration this year and the same is expected for next year.

Since the nominal tuition charge does not cover the operating expenses of the school, the deficit is made up by the Barrett Community Club.

To date the club has contributed almost $2,000 toward the support of the project. Funds are obtained through various affairs such as the annual fashion show scheduled for this Friday at Buck Hill Falls.

In addition, club members have personally contributed countless hours of volunteer service in handling clerical details in connection with administration of the center.

The center emphasizes well-rounded development of the child—physically, mentally, socially and emotionally—and aids in adjustment to first grade by giving the child training in school routine, a knowledge of fundamentals and the experience of association with other children in supervised activities.

HUNGRY YOUNGSTERS—Time out for juice and cookies is taken by five young pupils at Barrett Community Club Pre-School Center. They are Mary E. Wilson, Mara Lee Shoesmith, Willa Price, Cathy Scheim and Kim Vogt.

'ONCE UPON A TIME'—Mrs. Jean Burke conducts a story hour at Barrett Community Club Pre-School Center. Her attentive audience includes Penny Price, Cathy Dunlap, Patrick Ryan, Carl Teeter, Michael Lewis, Jerry Hay and Jerry Lewis.

COMIN' 'ROUND THE MOUNTAIN—Miniature trains prove fascinating to Gary Reinhardt, John Thomas, Craig Coffman and David Absalom, pupils at Barrett Community Club Pre-School Center.

Annual Recital Presented By Dance Classes

Seventeen pupils and guest artists worked together to make a colorful Dance Recital of 1960, for the Polly Hope School of the Dance at the Mountain Manor Arena.

The opening number had words of greeting written to the music of "Sunny Side of the Street" with the routine done sitting and dancing on suitcases, which when placed at the end of the number spelled "Miss Polly."

Three "Little Ballerinas," Debbie Arnt, Melanie Seese, and Gigi Fenical, were pre-schoolers in their class number. Miss Fenical also played a solo on her electric organ.

Bonnie Fenical created her own costume and dance portraying "The Love and Death of Madame Butterfly."

The first guest star, Jimmie Williams, co-starred with Marcia Mink in an exhibition ballroom waltz created by Miss Mink.

Michael Hope sang "Do, Re, Me."

"Gypsy Tarrantella," complete with Tambourine Drill, was danced by the large group including Kathy Smith, Candy Martin, Missy Barr, Carmen Pascarello, Brenda Weiss, Bonnie Fenical, Marcia Mink, Janet Richards, Deborah Barr, Joan Schreider, Linda Sirola, Jean Turn, Mary Beth Pascarello, and Liana Hope.

"The Heart Throbs," Vic Michaels and Curt Hickman, guests in the last three shows, were again participants in the recital.

A toe solo, "A Dance Interpretation of Valse Bluetie," was done by Marcia Mink.

"A Millionaire," Liana Hope's solo, was done in rags and patched top-hat to a hot-shot cha-cha rhythm.

Bonnie Fenical, Marcia Mink and Liana Hope turned themselves into Beatniks in a trick number they routine themselves.

The high spot of the evening was the Finale by the entire school. Each pupil had a flower-covered hoop and costumes of pastel shades of aqua, maize, orchid and apple-green. Each class was represented in its turn throughout the number and the hoop arrangements were very colorful.

Much credit for making costumes was given Mrs. Michael Pascarello and the pupils' mothers.

The
Wyckoff Shopper

The Friendly Store
A.B. Wyckoff
STROUDSBURG, PA.

Tonight's the night . . . so today will be a busy one. If I'm ever going to hold my own against those gorgeous models in their gorgeous attire from Israel; their pert, charming casuals from Wyckoff's . . . and their luxurious mink from the Soleta Fur Salon in New York, I'd better look my very, very best, and hope it's good enough!

Today is an exciting day at Wyckoff's, what with our June Jumbo Sale getting under way for 10 exciting days and 5 nights of thrifty, money-saving shopping opportunities for our Wyckoff customers. Many of you wait for these periodic sales of ours, I know . . . and wise you are!—for the merchandise being offered at 20 to 50% savings is fresh, new, crisp as a starched daisy in a store window, and TIMELY. Not winter apparel from last year's racks, for instance, but NEW for NOW!

The store will open each day this week at 9:30 and will remain open until 9 p. m. So, if you plan to be at Tamiment for tonight's fashion show, shop EARLY, and resume shopping tomorrow.

Now . . . something so stunning it will take your mind off the heat and your troubles. Meaning the picture of Miss JANTZEN, lovely Maribel Maschal of Media, Pa.

If you didn't meet Maribel on her visit to Wyckoff's last week, see her modeling Jantzens, both modern and of Gay Ninety vintage, at Tamiment tonight. She stands 5 ft. 7, measures 35-23-35—a perfect size 10 . . . has hair the color of a moonbeam, a rich copper tan, and eyes that seem to vary in color with the shade she's wearing . . . and she wears them all stunningly. The suit in the picture above is a Jantzen, of course, in a super-smart olive tone, flattering to almost anyone, and a real knockout on Maribel.

Now for a facial . . . a shampoo and wave . . . a manicure . . . (wonder what else they could do to me and for me in our Wyckoff Beauty Salon on this exciting day?)

Patterson's Victory Made Hit Tune

WITHIN MINUTES after Floyd Patterson regained his heavyweight championship, by chilling part-time fighter, off-time playboy Ingemar Johansson, a new hit tune was making its way along New York's Eighth Avenue.

Started by a group of Negro youths outside the Polo Grounds, the slow chant began, "Floyd Patterson hit him with a left," and continued with each singer, warbling a few descriptive bars about the fight.

As the singers moved away from the Polo Grounds, one of them grabbed a wash tub and a stick, to serve as a base drum. At each intersection the group's number was swelled by more Patterson backers.

But many people along Eighth Avenue were just content to talk about the battle. In front of almost every store, there were small groups of eager listeners crowded around one eyewitness, who not only described the fight but acted out all five rounds.

Near the Polo Grounds, the descriptions of the fight were fairly accurate but around 150th Street, distortion began to creep into the accounts.

Trainer Threw In Towel Listeners Told

One youth had Johansson's corner throwing the towel in and "It took a half an hour for that Swede to regain consciousness."

Newspaper boys outdid each other with their hawking spools. "Read about Brother Pat," one youngster bellowed, while another huckster chanted, "Johansson smiled when he won but he ain't smiling now."

Some two miles from the fight scene another group of boys was practicing "Eighth Avenue Voodoo."

Every time a car stopped for a light, the boys read in front of the automobiles and scrawled Johansson's name and a stick figure, in chalk on the street.

When the cars drove over the chalk marks, the crowd roared.

Other Side Covered Earlier

"Why are you doing this now?" a passerby asked the penmen. "Oh we did it before the fight on the other side of the street," the chalk bearer replied pointing to an almost white section of asphalt on the opposite side of Eighth Avenue.

Patterson's thrilling knockout, perhaps saved the fight promoters, Feature Sports Inc. from a "bad press." Tickets were not mailed to the sportswriters in advance and writers traveled as far away as Sweden without knowing if they would be able to get tickets.

Press credentials were not checked at the upper press box and an overflow crowd inside the booth, made it necessary for some writers to stand to watch the fight.

But the press corps, was not as unfortunate as the ring-siders, who paid $100 for their seats.

Mob Makes Unpaid Entrance

Some 5,000 over-zealous fans (one New York paper called them hoodlums) broke down a door in the upper reaches of the Polo Grounds and streamed onto the field.

They surrounded the ring, blocking the view of the $100 ticket holders as well as the ringside press.

Special police tried to cope with the mob but had little success. The mob surged after Patterson as he was led to his dressing room, throwing soft drink and ice on the new champ and his handlers.

Bill Fugazy, brother of fight promoter Jack Fugazy, blamed New York police commissioner Stephen Kennedy for the mob trouble.

Kennedy Refused Inside Police Help

"We called Kennedy at 4 p. m. and told him that we didn't think that the 200 special police we hired could control the crowd inside the Polo Grounds," Fugazy said "but Kennedy refused to let any of his police go inside the gates."

Fugazy said Kennedy told him he "didn't want his men being used as ushers."

New York police did work the area outside the stadium and compounded the confusion by setting up barricades 100 feet from the turnstiles.

Late arrivals had to beg police to let them through the barricades to get to the gates.

"If we can't get better cooperation from the police," for the next fight," Fugazy concluded, "we may not hold it in New York."

NBA Frowns On Rematch

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The president of the National Boxing Assn. said Tuesday that the NBA frowns on a third bout between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson.

"It was a good bout, honest and sincere and a decisive victory for Patterson," Anthony Macaroni said. "The heavyweight division has been stalled long enough. We believe that there are many challengers available in that division."

He named Sonny Liston, ranked No. 1 by the NBA; Zora Folley, No. 3; and Eddie Machen, No. 5. Patterson was ranked second before Monday night's bout.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates' front office is just a little worried—what will it be like if the Pirates actually win the National League pennant?

The first place Pirates, home for a 13-game stand have thousands of loyal followers. Ticket sales are booming. Some fans have gone so far as to write formally for World Series reservations.

"We got one request just Tuesday from someone in Georgia," a Pirate spokesman said. "The gentleman had included a $500 check. We're encouraged by his confidence but we just had to return the check—along with a form letter explaining we are not taking any applications at this time."

Philadelphia Considered

Other Cities Seek Rematch Of Floyd-Ingo Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Both Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson talked of a third match as soon as possible Tuesday after their second heavyweight title fight drew a gate of $824,891 plus an estimated $3,000,000 in supplementary rights. The paid attendance was 31,892.

Irving Kahn, president of the closed circuit television company (Teleprompter) that held theater-TV, radio and movie rights estimated that Patterson and Johansson each would get between $800,000 and $900,000 from those receipts. That would be in addition to an estimated $175,000 each from the gate. The all time record for a fighter's purse is the $390,445 that Gene Tunney received for his second fight with Jack Dempsey at Chicago in 1927.

Bill Fugazy, a director of Feature Sports, Inc., promoting its first fight, said his organization held the rematch contracts calling for Patterson to defend his rewon title within 90 days.

Ask Fighters

"We want to consult the fighters and their advisers within a few days to determine when and where it should be held," said Fugazy. "We are disturbed about the lack of cooperation by the New York Police Department. Perhaps it doesn't belong here if we are going to get that kind of support."

Bids from other cities already were being received. A Chicago official expressed interest Monday night. Erwin Weiner, director of special event for the Chicago Park District said "someone" has approached him about holding the third fight in Soldier Field. Philadelphia also was interested among other cities.

"I'd like to fight Ingemar within 90 days," said Patterson at a noon press conference.

Fine Spirits

The first former heavyweight champ to regain his title was in fine spirits as he answered questions before a battery of microphones in a midtown hotel.

"If I should win," he continued. "I would like to negotiate with other contenders, possibly (Sonny) Liston."

When a newsman asked Patterson if he thought the public wanted another fight with Johansson, the champ replied:

"I think so, if you look at it this way: In the first fight I definitely was overconfident from what I had read. I was surprised. In the second fight Ingemar more or less underestimated me because things had been so easy for him. The third should decide the championship."

Patterson, who knocked out Johansson with a left hook at 1:51 of the fifth after dropping him for a nine-count with another left hook earlier in the same round, said he had not been hurt badly when thumped by the Swede's famed right in the second.

Floyd Confident

Earlier in a telephone interview, Johansson had said he thought Patterson was "playing." He said he "didn't like to take a chance. I felt I had time and I was confident I would be able to get him again."

One hitch to a third match arose when Tony Macaroni, president of the National Boxing Assn. said in Providence, R.I., that the NBA frowns on a third bout. He said Liston, Zora Folley and Eddie Machen were among the challengers available.

Johansson slept off the effects of the knockout in a midtown hotel, apparently none the worse for wear. It developed that he had been unconscious for 10 minutes in mid-ring. It had been an hour before he walked and 90 minutes before he asked what hit him.

Reese, Barrow Team To Pitch Stroudsburg Win

DOC REESE and Tom Barrow combined for a four-hitter Tuesday, as the Stroudsburgs defeated the Slators 5-3 in a Blue Mountain League game at Portland.

Reese pitched the first three frames, allowing two hits and one earned run. He was lifted in the fourth when he walked the first two men he faced. Barrow hurled the final four innings and was credited with the win.

The Stroudsburgs scored their first inning trio on a walk to Paul

Miller unloaded his second hit of the night a double, sending Lim to third. Howe rapped a single to left, sending Lim home and Miller to third.

Frank Radler's club completed its scoring in the fifth. Dick Gray opened with his second double of the game to right field. Frank Radler Jr. beat out infield hit, with Gray taking third and an over-throw at third trying to nip Gray was wide of the bag and Gray scored.

Miller, Howe and Gray each had two hits, while Wally Kise smacked a pair of singles for the Slators.
